FINAL COLLEGE VISIT AT HDD LICHFIELD – L1 CARPENTRY AND JOINERY STUDENTS

We were delighted to welcome our final group of L1 Carpentry and Joinery students from South Staffordshire College for an informative and engaging visit to site.

The students enjoyed a guided tour of the site, where they had the opportunity to see shuttering works carried out by our joiners, alongside the installation of a cycle shelter. They were also able to get a closer look at some of the equipment and machinery used on site and learn more about the materials and structural elements involved in the build.

With both site managers starting their own careers in the carpentry and joinery trade, they were able to share their valuable knowledge and experience. They spoke to the learners about the fundamental skills and techniques they will develop throughout their course and, importantly, how these skills are applied in a real working environment.

The students showed great interest throughout the visit, asking questions about the materials being used, the building's structure and the various processes taking place on site.

It was a fantastic opportunity to bring their classroom learning to life, giving them a valuable insight into the construction industry and demonstrate the range of skills and opportunities available within the carpentry and joinery profession.

Thank you to Tom from South Staffordshire College and all the learners for taking the time to visit us. We hope they enjoyed the experience and found it both informative and inspiring!

Thank you to everyone for your hard work, commitment and teamwork in making the visit a success. We truly appreciate your efforts, support and contribution in ensuring everything ran smoothly.
